Chinese border guards, Qin said that the victims were illegal border-crossers and that there was no more to add.

Sensitivity to Criticism on China-Africa Cooperation

14. Qin said he "does not understand the mentality and motives" of countries who continue to criticize China's relationship with African nations in a several minutes long response to a question regarding South African President Thabo Mbeki's remarks that China risks entering into a colonial relationship with Africa if it continues to extract natural resources without developing Africa's manufacturing capacity. Qin spoke about common experiences and suffering under colonialism between the people of China and Africa as well as of prior support for China-Africa cooperation from President Mbeki himself.
